Taking care of the women with Gestational Diabetes Mellitus is the first step in the primary prevention of diabetes. Timely action taken in screening all pregnant women for glucose intolerance, achieving euglycemia in them and ensuring adequate nutrition may prevent, in all probability, the vicious cycle of transmitting glucose intolerance from one generation to another. Universal screening for glucose intolerance during pregnancy is most ideal for the population of State of Goa.

Government is therefore pleased to make mandatory screening of pregnant women for Gestational Diabetes Mellitus from 24-28 weeks pregnancy in Goa Medical College & Hospital, District Hospitals, Community Health Centres, Urban Health Centres and Primary Health Centres in the State of Goa; in order to prevent the probability of transmitting glucose intolerance from one generation to another.
